Where to find the GRE:

Start on the Learning Express home page.

You will want to make sure that you are logged into your account before accessing any of the practice tests. If you don’t know how to create an account, please see the guide for creating an account on Learning Express featured on the web page.

Click on the link for Featured Resource List.

Under Prepare for Graduate School Admissions Exams, choose GRE Preparation.

You can now choose one of the GRE preparation tests that you would like to take. In this example, let’s say that you want to take the GRE Analytical Writing Practice Test 1.
When you click on the test link, if you aren’t logged in, a window will pop up asking for your login credentials. If you have created an account, you will need to choose Login.

In the new window, you will need to provide your user name (email), and password.

In the next window, you will see some details about the practice test. You can also change what kind of practice test you would like to take. In this example, we will just leave the type as simulation. When you have the desired settings selected, you can then choose Start Test to begin the practice test.
