

Envision 2030 Pillar Discussion: Liberal Arts and the Humanities

Thursday, October 6, 2016, 1:00–3:00 p.m.

Skoal Room, Student Center, Valley City State University

- Welcome Tisa Mason, President, Valley City State University
- Greeting from NDUS Chris Erickson, Communications Specialist, North Dakota University System
- Envision 2030 Featurette North Dakota University System
www.youtube.com/watch?v=uNb3P9aoiGk
- Introductions Greg Vanney, Director of Marketing and Communications, Valley City State University
- Comments Tom Isern, Professor of History and University Distinguished Professor of History, North Dakota State University
- Lee Kruger, Associate Professor of Language and Literature, Valley City State University
- Anthony Dutton, Associate Professor and Social Science Department Chair, Valley City State University
- What Will a Liberal Arts Education Look Like in 50 Years? The Atlantic www.youtube.com/watch?v=L4dh2eyDq_4
- Discussion
- Closing Tisa Mason

Handout: Employer Priorities for Most Important Learning Outcomes, Association of American Colleges and Universities www.aacu.org/leap/public-opinion-research/2015-employer-priorities